Part of Mayer Fine Art's "Incubator Series" in which owner, Sheila Giolitti, gives talented young artists a "leg up" with a professional solo show, this exhibition features autobiographical installations and sculptures crafted from rustic and mundane materials. The viewer is invited to connect with Karine Lombardo's recollection of the social and cultural traditions of the Puerto Rico and Panama of her childhood through works that are rich with symbolism and a sense of mystery, nostalgia, and playfulness.
